Subject: MOU for air quality monitoring at Maharaja Ganga Singh University under National Carbonaceous Aerosol Program-Carbonaceous Aerosol Emissions, Source apportionment & Climate Effects (NCAP-COALESCE).

Respected Prof. Chhangani,

As per our discussion and meeting with honorable vice chancellor, registrar and finance officer on 29/10/2013 at Maharaja Ganga Singh University, Bikaner, the air pollution monitoring activity at your institute under NCAP-COALESCE project funded by Ministry of Environment and Forest-Climate Change will start soon. This activity at MGSU under academic collaboration with IIT Delhi will benefit your institute in following aspects.

1. Training of man power for measurement of emissions from various sources including biomass fuel in cooking stoves, open biomass burning after harvest, brick kiln and vehicles using a custom build source sampling train developed by IIT Delhi and IIT Bombay.
2. Training of man power for Super SASS 8-channel aerosol collection sampler with denuder.
3. Participation of students in survey related to residential sector, agricultural sector, brick kiln and vehicles using digital application provided by IIT Bombay.
4. Enabling Msc/MTech theses of students of MGSU (co-guided by Prof. A. K. Chhangani & Prof. Gazala Habib), exploiting the field survey and sampling data, along with additional analysis using meteorology/ trajectory/ source apportionment/ other models.
5. TA/DA of one student visiting any collaborative institutes for training will be paid from 'Travel head' of the NCAP-COALESCE project at IIT Delhi.
6. TA/DA of PI (Prof. A. K. Chhangani) for attending review meetings will be paid from 'Travel head' of the NCAP-COALESCE project at IIT Delhi.
7. The infrastructure and consumable for conducting the measurement at MGSU will be supported by IIT Delhi.
8. The authorship on publication/publications will be decided as per NCAP policy document approved to MOEF-CC.

A technical staff appointed by IIT Delhi will be responsible for operation and maintenance of instruments. The accommodation of technical staff in guesthouse/hostel will be provided by MGSU. The electricity for running the instrument will be provided by MGSU. The instruments including SASS sampler, aethalometer, nephelometer etc. will be loaned to MGSU and will remain the property of IIT Delhi.

Looking forward to your support,

Thanking you,

Yours Sincerely,

Prof. Gazala Habib
